5.0 Our lawful basis for collecting this information.

Our lawful basis for collecting this information under article 6 of GDPR is trifold. Firstly, we require consent to provide your child with an occupational therapy service.

Secondly, we have a 'legitimate interest' (under article 6 of GDPR). We cannot adequately deliver a service to your child without processing their personal information. As it is both a necessity for our service delivery and of benefit to your child, we have a legitimate interest to process and store their data.

Finally, data relating to an individual's health is classified as 'Special Category Data' under section 9 of the GDPR. The regulations specify that health professionals who are "legally bound to professional secrecy" may have a lawful basis for processing this data. Occupational Therapists are legally bound to keep client information confidential and it is under this condition that we process and store personal information.

5.1 Meeting our professional obligations

It is a legal requirement for all Occupational Therapists to be registered with the Health and Care Professions Council (HCPC). The HCPC has clear standards² of conduct, performance, and ethics that all registrants must adhere to. These standards affect the way in which we process and share information. Specifically:

Whilst the preference is that information regarding safeguarding is shared with parent consent, the advice guidance for sharing of information states,

"The Data Protection Act 2018 and UK GDPR do not prohibit the collection and sharing of personal information, but rather provide a framework to ensure that personal information is shared appropriately. In particular, the Data Protection Act 2018 balances the rights of the information subject (the individual whom the information is about) and the possible need to share information about them."
p20

"Health practitioners are in a strong position to identify welfare needs or safeguarding concerns regarding individual children and, where appropriate, provide support. This includes understanding risk factors, communicating and sharing information effectively with children and families, liaising with other organisations and agencies, assessing needs and capacity, responding to those needs and contributing to multi-agency assessments and reviews." pp110-111

For face-to-face clients, electronic clinical information is stored with encryption on both the therapist's computer and backup Google Workspace Drive.

Online sensory assessments are stored within Google Workspace Drive. Google cloud storage is GDPR compliant⁵.

Paper records are held within a locked cabinet. The minimum amount of confidential information will be taken out of the occupational therapist's base, and if it is it will be kept with the occupational therapist at all times. This information is also typically recorded using initials only.

Your name and telephone number, messages and call history may be stored on the therapist's phone.
